SERVE Web Site Email Announcement

Subject: www.serveusa.gov

Greetings!

FVAP announces the launch of the SERVE web site at www.serveusa.gov. This site provides information on the Secure Electronic Registration and Voting Experiment (SERVE), which you can use to publicize the project. This web site will be updated with new information as it becomes available.

Visit and bookmark the site today, and encourage voters to logon and learn how they can participate in SERVE. The web site provides information on participating counties and states, frequently asked questions, election information, and project updates.

Please provide links to www.serveusa.gov on your web site. To assist you, attached is the SERVE project logo and a brief description you can include on your site.

SERVE is the Internet voting project being conducted by the Federal Voting Assistance Program, the State of (Your state name here) and selected other states to improve the ability of Uniformed Services members, their families, and overseas citizens to vote in the 2004 election. Visit the SERVE web site for more information!

Please email questions and comments regarding the SERVE web site to SERVE@fvap.ncr.gov. Thank you for your continued interest in the SERVE project!

Please forward this announcement to others who may be interested in SERVE
